SEMINAR BACKGROUND

The International Seminar On Islamic Jurisprudence In Contemporary Society 2013 (ISLAC 2013) is a continuity of a similar seminar held in 2011 (ISLAC 2011) as well as other academic lectures organized by the Syariah Department of the Faculty of Contemporary Islamic Studies UniSZA.

In the present post-modernism era, the Muslim world is facing various challenges and issues. These issues involve integrity, family and kinship, assets, Islamic finance, administration, environment, conservation and even legal conflicts which need holistic approaches and solutions.

To harmonise these issues with the sacredness of Islam, approaches, solutions and resolutions taken should be based on the Syariah laws, fiqh methodology and maqasid syarriyyah.

OBJECTIVES

- To enhance research resources related to Islamic Jurisprudence.
- To propose solutions to global contemporary issues related to finance, Islamic banking, asset management, integrity, family and kinship, crime, environmental conservation and administration based on Islamic approaches.
- To put forward objectives based on dynamic Islamic jurisprudence to the society as an effort to elevate literacy, understanding and acceptance of the society towards the Islamic Jurisprudence.
- To introduce UniSZA internationally as an institution which offers multi-dicipline and courses in an effort to enrich and strengthen knowledge, encourage quality researches and appreciate various disciplines for universal benefits.
